A LUXURIOUS HIGHLAND FLING ABOARD THE BELMOND ROYAL SCOTSMAN

Experience luxury train travel at its finest aboard the Belmond Royal Scotsman. Select from one of three outstanding journeys: Scotland's Classic Splendors (four nights), Western Scenic Wonders (three nights), or Taste of the Highlands (two nights). Life on board the Belmond Royal Scotsman is relaxed and indulgent, with a total of just 36 guests. Enjoy a private cabin for two and the open-deck Observation Car.

Days will be spent traveling through some of the country's finest scenery with opportunities for guided tours of castles and gardens along the way. Each night, after a 4-course dinner and spirits, a local clansman recounts tales that bring Scottish history alive. Transportation to Scotland is not included. Travel departure must be made by April 12, 2019. Please note that trains only run from April through October, and there is one available trip in April 2019. May not be extended.

Value $14,400

SEVEN-NIGHT VACATION IN HIGHLAND SEASIDE LODGE OVERLOOKING ISLE OF SKYE

Tulach Ard, a traditional 18th-century manse nestled on the shore of Loch Alsh in the Highlands, is the childhood home of architect and designer Lachlan Stewart. Just down the loch from Eilean Donan Castle, the house is uniquely placed on the road to the Isle of Skye. Its exquisite and unrivaled location offers guests a memorable experience of one of the most picturesque spots in Scotland. Lachlan and his wife Annie have since remodeled and modernized the property using furnishings entirely from ANTA, their Scottish interiors company. The house boasts seven luxury double bedrooms and four bathrooms, allowing the property to easily accommodate a party of up to fourteen guests. Step outside and discover the lochs, glens, rare wildlife, and sporting activities surrounding the property, or simply relax in the comfort of Scottish hospitality. This offer is valid for up to 14 guests for one week by mutual agreement between the family and the bidder. Bookings may be made until October 2019 but exclude Christmas and New Year. For an additional cost, your stay may be extended and extra guests can be accommodated in a separate cottage.

Value $6,325

Generously donated by Lachlan and Annie Stewart.

GLORIOUS MAR LODGE

At the heart of the Cairngorms National Park lies Mar Lodge Estate, a beautifully restored Victorian sporting lodge set in 72,000 acres of stunning wild Highland landscape. Within its boundaries are remnants of the ancient Caledonian pine forest, heather moorland, juniper scrub and a part of the high Cairngorm plateau. On offer is the beautifully appointed Bynack suite accommodation for five days (Monday through Friday) for up to 17 people. The apartment is self-catered, and caterers will be recommended to you. Up to three days of hind stalking for two to three rifles, depending on selected dates, are included. This offer is available for five weekdays in October or November 2019 by mutual agreement with the bidder. Dates should be agreed by November 2018. Hind stalking requires walking in rough terrain, so those shooting need to be relatively fit.

Value $6,100

Generously donated by National Trust for Scotland.

CULZEAN CASTLE'S BURIED HISTORY & SCOTTISH TEXTILES PRIVATE DAY TOUR

A one-of-a-kind opportunity to view Culzean Castle through the eyes of an archaeologist and experience the Castle's lesser known history. Up to eight guests will stay for three nights in the Eisenhower Hotel, a small, country house-style hotel located on the top floor of Culzean Castle and featuring superb panoramic views across the Firth of Clyde toward the Isle of Arran. You and your guests will be led on private tours of the castle, gardens, and grounds, the highlight of which is a personal guided tour with NTS Head of Archaeology, Derek Alexander. Archaeological sites at Culzean include the lost 18th-century walled garden and the 17th-century smugglers caves.

Guests staying at Culzean Castle are invited on a private day trip with Scottish textiles guide Kitty Bruce-Gardyne, and private chauffeur Grant Wilson luxury cars to discover two of Scotland's finest cashmere and lace weaving mills, suppliers to Louis Vuitton, Burberry, Ralph Lauren and other famous names in haute couture. Meet the makers and witness first-hand the skill and craftsmanship required to make these beautiful textiles. Along the way, explore the whole Made in Scotland story and that deep sense of provenance that binds the product to the land, its people and culture. There is an optional detour to visit Dumfries House, home to an exceptional collection of Chippendale furniture. The winning bidder will take home a lace table cover inspired by Charles Rennie Mackintosh, intricately woven on Victorian Nottingham Lace Looms at the MYB Textiles heritage mill in Ayrshire, Scotland. Dinners will be included during your stay (wine and spirits are not included). The textiles tour will take place on a week day, to fit in with any pre existing diary commitments of the guide and the driver. Dates in 2018/19 by mutual agreement with the bidder.

Value $3,105

Generously donated by National Trust for Scotland, Scottish Textiles Experience, and MYB Textiles

GARDENS OF ABERDEENSHIRE

A three-day, two-night weekend awaits a party of up to 16 at one of Scotland's most stunning Baronial buildings, Fyvie Castle in Aberdeenshire. Stay in the Preston Tower apartments, which benefitted recently from new upgraded amenities (and, as of writing, are not haunted!) Receive a private, behind-the-scenes tour of Fyvie's impressive collection of fine art, including one of the largest private collections of Raeburns in the world. The extensive grounds include an 18th-century walled garden that has been redeveloped as a garden of Scottish fruits and vegetables. Spend a day with the National Trust for Scotland's incredible gardening team at Fyvie or another local property such as Pitmedden Garden or Haddo House. Dinner for four will be provided each night in the dining room of the Tower, with a continental breakfast each morning. Meals for groups larger than four may be arranged with the caterer at an additional cost. Dates to be arranged in advance based on availability. Please have your arrangements in place by April 2019.

CELTIC CRUISING ABOARD THE 4-STAR PEARL II

A special opportunity to have a spot on the National Trust for Scotland's final chartered cruise, Celtic Homelands, traveling through much-loved islands and celebrated coastlines of Western Britain. From Cornwall to Canna, this autumn cruise combines an imaginative route with impeccable, friendly service and a relaxed atmosphere. On offer is accommodation and meals for two in a double cabin aboard the luxurious Pearl II, a 4-star ship famed for its cuisine, contemporary design and the comfortable familiarity of a home away from home. The ship carries just 400 passengers, all of whom will be friends of the National Trust for Scotland, evoking a warm atmosphere on board. Throughout your journey you will enjoy sophisticated entertainment, access to experts on board who are happy to share their knowledge, absorbing lectures, and high-quality shore excursions. Pearl II is small enough to navigate the waters of small ports or drop anchor off tiny remote islands. The cruise sails in and out of Greenock, Scotland September 2-14, 2018. Please have your reservation in place by August 1, 2018.

Value $13,750; Reserve $10,000

BRONZE MAQUETTES OF THE KELPIES BY SCULPTOR ANDY SCOTT

Sculptor Andy Scott works in steel and bronze, combining figurative and equine themes with contemporary techniques to create stunning landmark artworks. The Kelpies are the best-known public artworks in Scotland, welcoming millions of visitors to the small town of Falkirk since their inauguration. The two 100-foot high steel horse heads are the largest equine sculptures in the world, inspired by the cultural heritage of the Clydesdale horses that worked hard to help people along the canals and on the land.

These bronze maquettes (scaled to 1:200) are Scott's imagining of the full horse below the water line of the Kelpie's heads. The maquettes are approximately 20 inches high and are a limited edition of 30, signed by the artist. Scott is a graduate of Glasgow School of Art and now works in the United States from his studio in Philadelphia. He creates prominent public artworks for private, corporate, and civic clients, and his prodigious output now numbers in excess of eighty projects across the UK and internationally.

Value $12,000; Reserve $8,000

LOT 9: ONE WEEK VACATION AT VATERSAY SCHOOL GUESTHOUSE ON BARRA, SCOTLAND

Experience a one-week stay for two at the restored Vatersay School Guesthouse. The Isle of Vatersay, in the Outer Hebrides, is connected to Barra by a short causeway. Together they are the most westerly, permanently inhabited islands in the UK. Renowned for crystal white beaches, the region is considered by many to be the most beautiful in Scotland.

Accessible by air or ferry, Barra is noted for its fascinating Bronze and Iron Age ruins, the Dulchas Heritage Center, and Kisimul Castle. Your week long, self-catered stay is at an immaculately restored holiday residence, converted from a dependency of the adjacent old Vatersay School - itself an award-winning vacation villa. At low tide, the island is also linked to the islet of Uineasan to the east. Wildlife on the island includes otters, seals and herons. Bonnie Prince Charlie's flower (Calystegia soldanella), reputedly originating from French seeds dropped by Bonnie Prince Charlie is, in Scotland, found only on Vatersay and Eriskay. Shopping is a five-mile drive across the causeway to Castlebay.

Dates to be arranged in advance based on availability.

Please have your arrangements in place by April 12, 2019. Transportation to Scotland and Barra not included.

LOT 10: FOOTPATH BUILDING AT A SCENIC NATIONAL TRUST FOR SCOTLAND LOCATION

Few things are as tough as mountains, yet these magnificent ecosystems are more fragile than we realize. Every year, thousands of walkers, naturalists, runners, cyclists and others set forth into Scotland's mountains. The damage caused to footpaths is exacerbated by Scotland's constantly changing climate of rain, frost, snow, gales and even blazing sunshine (sometimes all in a single afternoon) which erode and crumble the soil around the paths. Spend a day with the NTS Footpath Team helping to rebuild trails and learning what it takes to repair footpaths in one of Scotland's most stunning landscapes. This specialist work is unique, skilled, and will give you firsthand experience in the preservation of our land. Travel is not included. Location and date is based on the Footpath Team work schedules. Please have your arrangements in place by April 12, 2019.

LOT 12: SCOTTISH CONTEMPORARY ART EXHIBITION TOUR WITH THE CURATORS

Tour the exhibition Best Laid Plans at the Norwood Club (New York City) with Curators Susi and Alasdair Nichol. Entitled Best Laid Plans, as a nod to Rabbin Burns, the exhibition features many of the leading artists to have emerged from the Scottish contemporary art scene. Some with international reputations, a few past winners of the prestigious Turner Prize, and others better known within Scotland. Stylistically, there are examples of the New Figuration associated with the Glasgow School of Art in the 1980's through to more conceptual works including installations and animation as well as artworks created this year, some specifically for the exhibition. Dinner with cocktails to follow the exhibition tour. Exhibition closes on September 4, 2018.

LOT 13: SLEEP NO MORE AT THE MCKITTRICK HOTEL

Reservation for two to attend Sleep No More, Shakespeare's classic Scottish tragedy presented through the lens of suspenseful film noir. Audiences move freely through a transporting world at their own pace, choosing their own path through the story, immersed in the most unique theatrical experience in the history of New York.

Completed in 1939, the McKittrick Hotel was intended to be New York City's finest and most decadent luxury hotel of its time. Six weeks before opening, and two days after the outbreak of World War II, the legendary hotel was condemned and left locked, permanently sealed from the public. Seventy-two years later, EMURSIVE has brought the Grande Dame back to life. Collaborating with London's award-winning PUNCHDRUNK, the legendary space is reinvented with Sleep No More. Reservation includes front of the line access, complimentary coat/bag check, and a reserved table in Manderley Bar. The reservation may be redeemed any Sunday - Thursday through July 12th, 2018.

LOT 17: IAN CHEYNE GLEN SLIGACHAN, WOODBLOCK PRINT, 12" X 13 1/4" (FRAMED)

Born in Broughty Ferry, Ian Cheyne (1895-1955) was educated at Glasgow Academy and studied at Glasgow School of Art. Originally a painter, he began to experiment with woodcuts, and color woodcuts of Scottish, Spanish and French landscapes became his prime interest. Cheyne's use of flat planes and curved forms gives his work an Art Deco feel. Japanese woodcuts were also an influence, particularly their lack of tonal depth and treatment of perspective. Cheyne exhibited regularly at the Royal Scottish Academy from 1920 until the end of his life.
